

Emma
Smith

Your Book of Life

Contents

Prologue	3
Astrological Personality Analysis	4
Cabbalistic Name Analysis	29
Chinese Horoscope	44
Native American Horoscope	55
Karmic Horoscope	64
Indian Horoscope	72
Astrological Occupation Analysis	76
Atlantean Horoscope	81
Health Horoscope	84
Flirt & Erotic Horoscope	89

Dear Emma,

Best wishes on your decision to purchase YOUR BOOK OF LIFE by PEGASTAR. You have made the right decision.

We know from many customers that YOUR BOOK OF LIFE enables you to recognize hidden abilities and talents. Many people have recognized their true self in this way. You will have this same experience yourself. Analyzing your personality is therefore more than just a hobby involving a very interesting topic. It is the most exciting adventure of your life. You, Emma, will discover a new world: your special gifts, your talents, your abilities, your true self! The discovery of your personality, of your true self, is an adventure to a new fascinating world. For many PEGASTAR customers it has become the chance to discover one's true self.

Through these analyses you will be able to venture into the deepest part of your being and therefore be in a position to work effectively on your own development and make decisions for yourself. You will receive answers to questions such as "Who am I?", "Where do I come from?", "Why am I here?" and "Where am I going?". Through PEGASTAR analyses you will recognize your strengths and weaknesses, you will get to know yourself better and therefore learn to love yourself more. Once you have found stability in yourself, you will also be able to deal with yourself and those around you better. It's a goal worth striving for, isn't it?

With best wishes,
Sincerely Yours

Helmut J. Ament

Manager
PEGASTAR SA

Astrological Personality Analysis

A horoscope is a portrayal of the skies at the moment of birth. From the many hundred individual elements, the two dozen or so interpretive characteristics that are of critical importance to you are consulted.

In recent years, astrology has elicited a great deal of interest. As the world's oldest science, it has a tradition of 6,000 years behind it. Today, it is even knocking on the doors of universities, just as C.G. Jung predicted in the 1950s.

Anyone who seeks answers in the esoteric will find "primeval symbolism" here. Anyone who understands our times knows that man himself must do something to advance himself. This is the true calling of our times. The wise man has recognized that he himself is responsible for evolution. If you penetrate the very depths of your being with astrology, you will experience the joy of working effectively on your own evolution, and thus acting on your own.

The quality of the time of one's birth says something about the nature of the embodied soul. Emma, astrology is not a means for circumventing one's destiny; rather, it is intended to help in fulfilling one's destiny.

Goethe said this about astrology:

How the Sun stood, greeting the planets, on the day you were conferred upon the world, that is how you soon progress, on and on, according to the law under which you began. So you must be, you cannot escape yourself; even the sibyls and the prophets said so; and no time and no night divides a molded shape, which develops as you live.

How you should interpret your horoscope

Emma, many of us have contradictory personalities, a fact that a horoscope will of course reflect. Don't be surprised if parts of the interpretation of your horoscope seem contradictory. One and the same person can be miserly in one way and generous in another. Paying careful attention to the particular sign described will clarify the apparent contradiction.

Rising Houses (*****)

The asterisks (*) are to help you in judging which strengths or weaknesses are dominant. The more asterisks, the more dominant a particular trait. In the event of contradictions, the trait with the most asterisks will predominate in stress situations

Horoscope Chart/Zodiac

The horoscope cast at birth is an observation of the sky and of the configuration of the planets at the instant of birth. Our PEGASTAR horoscope begins with your personal chart of the zodiac.

Aspect

The concept "aspect" refers to the geometric relationship of angles between planets. These relationships are based on the fact that the distance of angles causes a reciprocal effect between planets. These distances between angles (0°, 45°, 120° etc.) are called aspects.

Aspects can strengthen or weaken one another. In our horoscope drawing this means:

Line	Trait	Effect
Curve	Conjunction (0°)	by planet
Densely dotted line	Sextile (60°)	favourable
Continuous line	Quartile (90°)	negative
Loosely dotted line	Trigon (120°)	positive
Continuous arrowed	Opposite (180°)	unfavourable

Time of Birth

The precise moment of birth is essential to casting a personal horoscope. An error of a mere ten minutes can be of vital importance.

Houses

The heavens are divided into twelve houses or signs of the zodiac of which six are above and six below the horizon relative to a particular birthplace. This makes it possible to interpret precisely the influence of the stars and the zodiac, each house relating to a specific area of your life. Emma, the interpretation itself depends on the planets in each house and their positions relative to one another as in the paragraph above dealing with aspects.

AC - Ascendant

The first house of the zodiac in a horoscope is that which lies directly under the eastern horizon relative to the place of birth. This house is called the ascendant house and is considered the most influential. It is calculated by finding the point of the ecliptic, or degree of the zodiac, which at the moment of birth is just rising above the eastern horizon.

MC - Medium Coeli

MC is the abbreviation for the zenith

Transits - Lines of Fate

The horoscope of birth reflects the configuration of the planets at the instant of birth. Since all planets move through the heavens at varying speeds one of them must logically at some time or other transit that part of the zodiac at which a particular planet stood at the moment of your birth. Observation of these transitions makes it possible to predict the future.

GMT - Greenwich-Mean-Time

Emma, the moment of your birth in local time is translated to a time scale applicable the world over.

Background

The horoscope texts were written in 1979/80 by the late Dr. Eberhard Walker who died in 1987. His texts were inherited by a close friend and world-wide exclusive rights to them sold to PEGASTAR.

Dr. Walker was well-known for publishing a series of books on astrology based on his own personal calculations.

Destiny is part of your pre-ordained journey through life

Astrological Personality Analysis

Name	Emma Smith
Birthdate	Monday, May 13, 1968, 03:39 a.m.
Birthplace	New York (40° 43' N 74° 0' W)
Universal Time	Monday, May 13, 1968, 07:39 a.m.
House System	Koch

☉ Sun	22° 35'	Taurus	♉	☉
☾ Moon	3° 39'	Sagittarius	♐	☾
☿ Mercury	11° 26'	Gemini	♊	☿		♂	♀
♀ Venus	12° 19'	Taurus	♉	♀				♀
♂ Mars	3° 19'	Gemini	♊	♂		♂			♂
♃ Jupiter	26° 31'	Leo	♌	♃	☐					♃
♄ Saturn	20° 0'	Aries	♈	♄							♄
♅ Uranus	25° 14'	Virgo	♍	♅	♂
♆ Neptune	25° 14'	Scorpio	♏	♆
♇ Pluto	20° 15'	Virgo	♍	♇	♂
♁ Lunar Node	16° 55'	Aries	♈	♁			*
♈ Ascendant	3° 15'	Aries	♈	♈
♑ Medium Coeli	1° 43'	Capricorn	♑	♑

Sun - Taurus

One would describe your most striking quality as your calmness and composure. Nothing disturbs your equilibrium, except maybe something so 'rousing', that you 'come out of yourself'. That tempts quite a few people to dump everything in your lap, to tease and provoke you, because it doesn't seem dangerous. Maybe you explode, even on the first occurrence, and you are yourself surprised by your violent temper. Whoever is on the receiving end of that will be more careful in the future. But - as already mentioned otherwise you are a quiet person, industrious, and thrifty. However, with material things you can almost be careless: a really good meal, an exquisite wine is justified, especially if you have saved enough and put your money (possibly in house and property ownership) where it earns interest. Similarly, where you live must be luxurious, for you like being at home.

Emma, you will also get married, but only after a thorough examination of your prospective partner: he must be just as thrifty and hardworking, love the home, and his life appraised as meeting your principles. You prefer the conventional as long as it is useful, you don't want to know about innovations, and not at all if excessive advertising tries to seduce you towards the new things - the millions spent on advertising nowadays are downright wasted on you. You buy products from companies that limit their advertising. Your common sense tells you, that these are better and cheaper. By the way, intellect: you're not a joker, are mostly quiet and reserved, nevertheless are often more intelligent than most of those who do all the talking. Therefore you go certainly on your way in life and work, and finally you will have accumulated and invested considerable capital. You don't need the poorhouse or welfare institutions. You think these institutions are superfluous. After all, everybody should be as hardworking and thrifty as you, then they will never be in need.

The 1st House (Ascendant)

Period of Life

Your ascendant, and thus the first house of your horoscope, indicates where and how you stand in life, your physical and psychological constitution, what kind of temperament you have, and what tendencies of destiny necessarily arise from these predispositions.

1st House - Aries

Your ascendant is in Zodiac sign Aries.

Unless strong counter-influences are indicated below, you have an athletic build, are broad shouldered and muscular with a masculinity so pronounced in body and face that it is even discernible in women with this sign. Your temperament, which is often hot-tempered, inclines you toward excessive activity. You want to achieve what you strive for without fail, using force in order to prevail. What you fail to achieve in the initial onslaught, however, you shall never achieve. Stamina and patience are not your strengths. Still, you are almost always successful because your active resistance increases until victory has been achieved. If you can manage to refine these colossal powers of endurance, sublimate them, and direct them toward fundamental and intellectual goals, you will achieve much in life. But you must beware of your tendency toward easy conflict, which achieves nothing: You will only be unpopular, particularly with your partner, who finds your powerfully passionate nature fascinating.

All careers requiring energy are open to you if they do not demand too much contemplation, those incessant "ifs and buts." Emma, you are not suited to desk jobs because you want to be physically involved: As a heavy manual laborer, a bold entrepreneur, the engineer of bold projects, or as a practical physicist or as a surgeon. Successful career soldiers of all ranks often have Aries ascendant.

Planets in the 1st House

Saturn in the 1st House

You have the planet Saturn in this house. This makes for seriousness and often, melancholy and pessimism. What comes easily to others is a major effort for you, one you must devote yourself to utterly. But even as a happy-go-lucky type loses everything that he has gained, you achieve your goal and see to it that it is not lost to you, because you have come by it too dearly. The heaviness Saturn has burdened you with simultaneously gives you material security and wisdom. Your sobriety and renunciation of life's pleasures and luxury may astonish the happy-go-lucky around you: You're not suffering, for this manner of living suits you well. The Saturn influence makes your body large-boned and a little bit clumsy.

Saturn Conjunction Lunar Node (***)

This aspect depends on the other aspects of the dragon's head and Saturn (you can check it). With predominantly poor aspects, contacts come about there only with difficulty, because internal inhibitions and external obstacles get in the way. Otherwise, one must still count on hindrances and connections that are slow in coming. But then they are generally reliable and durable.

Lunar Node in the 1st House

In this house of your horoscope you have the rising Moon node, also called the head of the dragon. All of the good qualities that we listed for you in this department of life are strengthened by it, and all bad ones, weakened. In the context of the departments of life indicated for this house you may expect honor, happiness, money, love, and associations with people who are well disposed toward you.

The 2nd House

Period of Life

Your acquired movable possessions, especially income and finances, but also your acquired knowledge and abilities.

2nd House - Taurus

In your horoscope this house is in Zodiac sign Taurus. This means that a striving to secure your standard of living is the strongest motivator for acquiring money. Since you want a "fitting" life, your income must not be too low and you apply all your (not insignificant) energies to procuring the monetary resources necessary. Once you have attained the needed base level, you spend the excess rationally, but readily, for you have acquired it in order to make your life pleasurable and not in order to gaze contentedly upon bags of money. You have a healthy attitude toward money, far from extravagance and greed.

Nor do you allow knowledge and abilities to lie fallow once you have acquired them: Emma, they are applied to your advantage.

Planets in the 2nd House

Sun in the 2nd House

Your Sun in the department of liquid assets brings (if it is predominantly well illuminated) the assurance that there will never be a lack of money. Your sources of earnings bring sure income, for which diligence and ability - yet seldom truly hard work - must be applied. Naturally the generosity of these influences is also evident in your type of spending: You are very generous where those around you are concerned and deny yourself nothing, which can be quite costly and extravagant upon occasion. This magnanimousness is dangerous only when the Sun receives unfavorable aspects (especially from Mars or Saturn, see below): Here there is the threat of ruinous extravagance. In this case you must keep yourself better under control than would be the case if the Sun did not have these aspects.

Sun Opposition Neptune (****)

Many failures and illness. The personality is insecure. Thus, escape in intoxication and dream. These dissonances are overcome by maturity.

Sun Trine Pluto (****)

Very great investments of energy, powerful personality.

Sun Square Jupiter (***)

Despite this "poor" aspect, you can enjoy success. Make the best of it by combating your faults: wastefulness, gambling and speculation, overestimating yourself, and rebellion. You should avoid trials whenever possible. Your health is not very robust.

Sun Trine Uranus (***)

Extraordinarily good constellation: Gift for art and science as well as modern technology (inventions). Many types of success and winnings, but with fluctuations. Financial situation is variable.

Venus in the 2nd House

Our ancestors did not call Venus, the Evening Star, "little fortune" for nothing. If it is located in the department of your finances, things will never be all that bad in this regard. The only thing that could become dangerous for your money (see below, Venus squared by Jupiter or Mars) is your own luxurious extravagances and lavishness. Often your income stems from careers that involve fashion, jewelry, beauty, or art.

Mars in the 2nd House

Mars in the house of your horoscope governing finances is a somewhat two-edged configuration. Without doubt your energy and energetic efforts ensure that the account stays full or is always replenished. But because you are unusually generous and unselfish, what you have acquired always slips between your fingers. With squares of Mars (see below) this can become unpleasant: A tendency toward extravagances and lavishness.

Mars Opposition Moon (*****)

Disruptions in the emotional life come from excessively strong affects, to the point of aggression. Tendency towards indiscretion and an arrogant, explosive being.

Mars Sextile Ascendent (*****)

Much competence and courage make success easy for you, and a powerful, robust body helps you in this. Because of your strong character and honesty, people are willing to put up with you even if you are sometimes a little noisy.

Mars Opposition Neptune (**)

Strong emotional life. The urge to action can result in chaos - oversensitivity and the desire for intrigue, losses of money and losses in general within the framework of the above area of life.

The 3rd House

Period of Life

Your everyday relationship with the close circle of those around you and everything that connects you to them (for example, travel, correspondence, visits, and so on). Your everyday thoughts.

3rd House - Gemini

This department of your life is under the Zodiac sign Gemini and thus you are excellently provided for. The more people you have around you the better. Emma, you talk with everyone. Usually these conversations are noncommittal, but then again, who wants to talk about one's biggest problems right off the bat with every chance acquaintance one makes? Thus you need city life whenever possible, where something is always going on, where you can constantly have different conversations with different people. As long as there is no lack of interesting subjects, you have no need for gossip, which can otherwise be so tempting for you. The same applies to your relatives, especially if there are siblings: Rejoicing, excitement, cheerfulness, and all of it in an easy atmosphere of intellectual cleverness where you play with conversation like children play with a ball. Answers come immediately in the most comfortable manner, you find the telephone to be a most pleasant technical innovation. Letter writing is nice as well, but only if it takes place right away. Tomorrow all is forgotten again, cleared out of the way by the new.

Planets in the 3rd House

Mercury in the 3rd House

With Mercury in this house of your horoscope you are quite a "Jack of all trades." Your solid ability to orientate, your aptitude at imparting this knowledge in stimulating form, and your kindness make you an obvious and much sought after center in the circle of your friends and relatives. Your mobility makes it possible for you to be present "everywhere" (so people think). You are very skillful with the written and spoken word. Pay attention to the following Mercury aspects. They reveal if and how all these good attributes can also "turn" on you.

Mercury Opposition Moon (**)

Even a bad Mercury aspect is better than none at all. All literary abilities, dexterity in speech and writing are given, but a nervous irritability hinders the full exploitation of this productivity. Also to be combated are: indiscretion, talkativeness, and excessive criticism.

The 4th House

Period of Life

Your house and home, including your childhood home and native land. But especially your own home, and moreover, property and real estate, such as gravel pits and mining interests.

4th House - Cancer

According to your horoscope all of these matters are in the jurisdiction of the Zodiac sign Cancer. Despite your strong self-will the imprint of your parents is unmistakable. What you absorbed there is reshaped, but not forgotten. In youth you are moved by a strong urge to wander, but soon you strive to have a family and own a home. You do everything to obtain these things, and they provide the foundation that gives you security and calm in conflicts with those around you. Emma, you live out your dream of beauty and abundance in your own home: Absolutely nothing is too expensive, every luxury is allowed. You often love stylish furniture. You are also brave enough to place the mementos you gathered in the years of your mobile youth throughout your home in order to revel in your recollections. Your unique home bears no resemblance to a picture in a furniture sales brochure, which is quite a nice thing in our age of uniformity. Nonetheless you may expect frequent changes in residence.

The 5th House

Period of Life

Love as feeling and experience (not to be confused with partnership with a spouse). Your children and your other "creations" (e.g. inventions, compositions, and other works). Further your relationship with games, gambling and speculation.

5th House - Cancer

Emma, all of these affairs in your life are shaped by the sign Cancer. In love for the most part you invest much feeling, even if it is not apparent on the outside.

You have no need for sex without love: romance and tenderness are your motto. But no obligation. Even if it is the right partner, the connection must nonetheless ripen slowly. The slightest even well-intentioned pressure destroys everything.

Success with gambling and speculation is as changeable as the phases of the moon. Not much will come of it, at best new excitement. Pursue it truly as a game, with small stakes.

Do you want children? Then get ready in good time: they will need much love and comfort in the vicissitudes of life. Should you, for example, have an artistic tendency you can be quite prolific, as long as the works arise from your feeling and not, mind you, if they must be carried out on a commission basis. Emma, better you work in advance and then submit them to a buyer.

The 6th House

Period of Life

Work as daily duty, your subordinates in whatever form, assistants and aids. Physical susceptibility and health advice.

6th House - Leo

This house of your horoscope is under the influence of Zodiac sign Leo. You are a man or woman of action. When it's a matter of earning your living and even anything that in your opinion could relate to it, you really knuckle down and pull it off. Yet you must be able to choose the type of activity yourself. As a born enemy of all petty regulations you are useless for work in a registry office or bureaucracy. In the same way your desire for freedom would only cause havoc on an assembly line. You will soon recognize that you can push forward to managerial positions in which your style of working can be an asset.

Emma, in the rest of your life, you draw on abundant resources. Yet your vitality is so great that this generally makes no difference to you. Should things go amiss a drastic cure that would knock down weaker contemporaries definitely puts you back on your feet. Mostly you endanger your heart because you always run at full tilt.

Planets in the 6th House

Jupiter in the 6th House

Jupiter here gives you a sound physical constitution. If you really behave yourself "in Jupiter fashion," especially harmonious bodily functions will protect you from most illnesses. Yet an exaggerated "life of luxury" can lead to liver ailments and enjoyment of athletics can lead to minor accidents. Things probably won't go so well with work that is performed under obligation. Performing a daily task is tolerated only if a conscious decision is made about what an appropriate volume is.

Jupiter Square Neptune (****)

In the above area of life, this aspect shifts values and reason. There are disappointments and injuries. Blurred mysticism and effusion. The uneasiness that an unfavorably aspected Jupiter generates is a warning and allows one to rediscover the organic order of values.

Jupiter Square Sun (***)

Tendency towards pride to the point of conceit, disturbed self-confidence, resulting in arrogant, bad behavior. Thoughtlessness to the point of wastefulness. Losses and financial crises. Insight and self-discipline can work wonders here.

Jupiter Trine Medium Coeli (**)

A very good position: almost effortless advancement in positions that are far above your origins. Positions of trust with a broad range of power, high-ranking administrative offices, careers as judge and priest. Patronage supports your advancement, and your natural dignity effortlessly provides you with recognition as an authority. In this way, you can develop to your fullest.

Uranus in the 6th House

With Uranus in the sixth house of your horoscope there is a tendency to erratic work performance; any disturbing notions lead to abruptly breaking off and beginning again in a new place. Thus, a configuration that does not make you suited for a regular job with a prescribed workload and in a white collar position. With self-employment these irregularities are easier to bring under control, whether you have genius or only eccentric natural abilities. Sometimes both are present. Your health tends toward a delicate nervous disposition, which shows its slightest form in overexcitedness. For this, though, very unfavorable aspects (see below) are necessary.

Uranus Sextile Neptune (*****)

Intuitive-inspired ability for premonitions. Fairy tale dream world, artist (in the art of living) outside the normal, middle-class, correct world.

Uranus Trine Sun (***)

Eccentric nature, sudden change in life. Extraordinary gifts in art, science, and technology. Successful ideas and inventions.

Uranus Conjunction Pluto (**)

Serious confrontations, often with destructive effect. Nevertheless, a fascinating personality.

Uranus Opposition Ascendent (**)

Since you yourself tend towards continual agitation, there is always unrest and agitation in your environment as well because it is transferred there. A continuous cycle of agitation and activity, in which all the good gifts in science, technology, and art cannot come to maturity and success. Thus, the first commandment is more peace and quiet. This is part of productivity and of thought and reflection.

Uranus Square Medium Coeli (*)

You are threatened by fragmentation, or you lose yourself in utopias that cannot be realized. Much too much intensity, frequent and abrupt change of position or even career is a great detriment to advancement. Such aspects are best dealt with in artistic careers, but only amidst a high level of internal maturity.

Pluto in the 6th House

Pluto gives you colossal displays of strength for those jobs that seem worth the effort to you, above all, those jobs that are to help destroy bad and replace it with new and good.

Pluto Trine Sun (****)

On the other side of middle-class existence, a suggestive force can be exerted on the environment, if not on the popular masses. With a high level, justified claim to leadership, with major, environment-altering successes.

Pluto Conjunction Uranus (**)

Subversive ideas and destructive aggressions or: ideas and orders, views and insights combined with the powerful energy that defines change. Your level decides whether good or evil. Perhaps technical gifts as well.

Pluto Sextile Neptune (**)

Fascinating nature with great suggestive force. Can collect adherents, such as young people, around one. An aspect that becomes active only with a high spiritual level (e.g., with artists).

The 7th House

Period of Life

Your spouse, but also your partner as such, that is, your business partner, your contractual partners, etc. In general: Your opposite number with whom you must deal in good affairs as well as in bad ones (thus, opponents in legal proceedings as well).

7th House - Libra

This department of your life is ruled by the sign Libra. Emma, you may anticipate harmonious married life if you give it a bit of effort. With your spouse's vivaciousness you may expect frequent debates, but no enduring consequences, for reconciliation is soon at hand. This partnership is a bit costly, and this isn't always a matter of financial costs: Here you have to invest a lot of feeling and understanding, and you must be ready to be light and cheerful, and not always harp on the same issue. Here, more so than for the other signs, it is necessary to accommodate your partner and fulfill his real needs rather than papering over them with your own ideas. Do you often have enemies? Have no fear, the opposition will not last long. If you are prepared to compromise, all will soon be settled.

The 8th House

Period of Life

The profits or losses that come to you from the outside, such as dowry or inheritance, but also profits resulting from economic factors (the stock market, industry). Your position in the social community, and thus, also your position with your superior; in addition, your readiness to make sacrifices for the community.

8th House - Scorpio

Emma, the guidelines here are determined by the sign Scorpio. Thus, it is important that you look up the Mars position in its aspects, for this determines whether the favorable or the unfavorable affect of the following description is more valid. With this sign it is also important whether you have succeeded in attaining a certain inner maturity. Everything mysterious and unexplored attracts you; thus, it is entirely possible that you develop primitive superstitious, but also that you push forward to the loftiest insights. The great unknown of mankind, the Beyond, is in its unapproachability a thorn in your side. This explains your tendency to occult and mediumistic practices. Lodges also attract you, and you find parapsychology to be of great interest.

Do you have superiors? Yes? Oh no! They are often very domineering and eat you alive. You must work, work, and work: Just as fanatically as they do, even if it's ten o'clock at night. You think you cannot stand it, someone else must simply replace you. But: Your next superior is in all probability of a similar type. Give a bit of flattery a try, but only very little, for he will notice it otherwise, they way he notices everything. You'd be well advised never to fib to him.

Your business partners or also your spouse are probably quite tenacious at money making, but also have their hands in the management of money and themselves decide what happens to it: Anything but waste.

Planets in the 8th House

Moon in the 8th House

The Moon in this house makes money possible from the wealth or income of your wife, or from inheritance or economic circumstances. This is all very shaky and "unreliable," however, and dependent upon the aspects and transits of the Moon such that more exact information can only be attained by examining Moon relations that lie outside the scope of this investigation. Poor illumination of the Moon (please look up, below) makes your fluctuating mood slightly depressed. In general it may be said that you are slightly dissatisfied with earthly possibilities and hope for an improvement of all the imperfections on a higher plane, to an extent from the world beyond. Please pay close attention to the following aspects of the Moon - this is essential here because it is very dependent and mutable in its influences.

Moon Opposition Mars (*****)

An unpleasant aspect. Makes you indiscreet and noisy. Lust for power and moodiness. Corresponding tendencies in destiny: injury and losses, conflict and slander.

Moon Trine Ascendent (*****)

The kindness of your being makes you very popular. However, the mood fluctuates very sharply, but you almost always manage to offset this.

Moon Opposition Mercury (**)

Even a negative connection between intellect and fantasy helps stimulate literary abilities. It is not that easy, but through the necessary clashes the work gains depth, but the mind also loses sharpness. Frequent alternation has a harmful effect - a little more constancy and settledness would do you good.

Neptune in the 8th House

Here your Neptune brings you a powerful gift and thus, much danger in all areas of the occult, be it natural abilities as a medium, telepathy, or clairvoyance. These capabilities are never a happy legacy for living. Thus, be cautious: Only with inner maturity may these "talents" be used without causing harm to yourself or others. Please pay attention to the following aspects.

Neptune Sextile Uranus (*****)

Great sensitivity and fluctuating ability to be influenced. All types of successes, which repeatedly come to an end, however. Artistic interests.

Neptune Opposition Sun (****)

Difficulties through lies and slander, but also through your own predisposition: Tendency towards occultism and similar things can be just as dangerous as the abuse of alcohol, nicotine, and drugs.

Neptune Square Jupiter (****)

Little success despite artistic gift. Caution with occult experiments. Lack of restraint (drug abuse), scandals, disappointments, lies. Weakened physical constitution. (Please note the above area of life, in which this aspect is effective.)

Neptune Opposition Mars (**)

A poor aspect: Makes one irritable and scheming, results in damage and losses through lies and deception. Many types of scandal, perhaps generated in part by fanatic occultism. Protracted illnesses.

Neptune Sextile Pluto (**)

Intuitive sense of the situation can make investment of energy at the right time and at the right place possible.

The 9th House

Period of Life

Everything that leads you out of your own small world travels to far-off countries, or even emigration - but the further development of plans and institutions that serve humanity as well. Also, the step out of everyday thinking into the ideological: Philosophy and religion.

9th House - Sagittarius

Here the sign Sagittarius sets the tone for you. For you happiness on earth lies in distant lands, far from your homeland. You seldom resist this temptation, and even your career paves your way into foreign countries and parts of the world. Your philosophy of life arises from your understanding of human dignity, which you yourself of course live and which you serve. With growing maturity you recognize the obligation beyond yourself in service to the dignity of mankind. In this way you arrive at great social tasks for which you quite naturally make sacrifices, while you counter the daily battle with dirt and need - which leads lesser social reformers to the front lines - with a noble distance. Everything is of the largest scale and of one unified whole. Emma, your philosophy of life is no vague theory, and your faith is not merely adopted tradition or cliché idea, it is a part of your personality which assumes visible form in your external life.

The 10th House (Medium coeli)

Period of Life

Your standing in the general public, advancement, reputation, and honors.
Your ideal career, specifically as a calling.

10th House - Capricorn

Your standing in the general public plays out in the sign Capricorn. You have various gifts and abilities, but the best gifts you have received for your path through life are your unflagging diligence and your burning ambition. Thus, you are several lengths ahead of all your competitors in the struggle for existence. For this reason you do not need to seek long for connections and patronage, you know that you will manage by yourself. Your goal has long been fixed, it is the exercise of power, being at the top in some form or another. How high up depends less on your starting point (that is, your childhood home and your education) than on your own will. Emma, you can climb upward like a mountain climber for decades, laboriously, step by step, without losing sight of the intended goal. To this end you take on any quite difficult job, any renunciation of freedom and beauty of life. In making a career choice you often follow paths predetermined by your family tradition; moreover, you often choose an occupation that gives you security, say, a pension or annuity income.

Emma, the following career directions are possible: Agriculture, architecture (possibly sculpture as monumental art), administrative positions in the civil service or in commerce, above all, positions of trust, in the teaching profession (in your classroom the pupils certainly do not determine the when, what, and how of learning). In addition to construction in general comes printing technology and its various branches. In science you prefer archaeology and mathematics. (An aspect of Saturn to Mercury, especially a good one, is a clear indication of a mathematical gift. You will find such information below in the description of your horoscope).

The 11th House

Period of Life

Your friends, from whom you can expect help and support. In addition - more impersonally - those who make your advancement possible, thus, patrons as well. For your inner world: Your wishes and dreams.

11th House - Capricorn

This part of your life is under the sign Capricorn. You have plans, but seldom wishes and dreams. A wish in the sense of this house of the horoscope is a very delicate thing: You would have to pore over the idea, embellish the desired object (if it even is a material desire) with all sorts of extras, dream about it, and wait for some good spirit to fulfill your wish. With your behavior, something like this is out of the question: If you have a wish, it's a very clearly outlined affair...and with you, the plan to realize the wish is born along with the wish itself. Then all that remains is the work to achieve it: There's no more time left for dreaming. Unattainable wishes in which others lose themselves for years are something that you don't even allow to arise. For you, illusions are pointless.

Emma, your friends are hard to win, they are skeptical and cautious. However, once you're in (but you mustn't behave like a rogue when "advertising"), then these friends are not very generous or even liberal, but they are loyal and decent and exert a type of paternal authority over you which you might just decide to like.

The 12th House

Period of Life

Your restrictions and inhibitions, the causes of which often remain unclear to you, also your secret enemies, who lie in ambush. This includes your life in restriction, be it because force is imposed upon you from without as illness, internment, or even imprisonment, or because you voluntarily withdraw into solitude and isolation for a specific purpose.

12th House - Aquarius

Because you have the Zodiac sign Aquarius, you will react with the greatest obstinacy to any restriction of your physical or intellectual life that is imposed upon you from without. Despite your dispassionate nature, you would rather smash everything to bits than tolerate something like this. You will switch over to heavy artillery if you do not manage to secure your freedom using your superior intellect. If you consider it necessary for an idea, you will voluntarily withdraw into a "hermitage." You are ready to assume any restriction or sacrifice for an improvement in the world or in humanity.

Emma, you will scarcely have secret enemies, unless your Uranus (ruler of the sign Aquarius) or another planet that is located in this department of life (see below) were to have a very unfavorable aspect (square or opposition) with another planet, especially with Neptune. You can find this out for yourself below.

Cabbalistic Name Analysis

In the universe, everything has a vibration which may be measured with a specific number. Those who know how to interpret the numbers are aware of the internal nature of things, their qualities, dispositions and tendencies. Just like everything else in the world, the letters of the alphabet have their specific numerical values and their individual meanings.

With its hidden vibrational rhythms, the name is of great significance for all living beings. It contains the earthly Karma, and is hence the bearer of fate and character. Emma, those who want to give their life a new direction should change their name. Sensitive individuals, such as inspired artists, feel every discrepancy in their name, and therefore often assume a nom de plume. Most of the time, the selection is intuitive.

Above all, the old cultures knew a lot about the significance of numbers; in particular the ancient Mayas, Egyptians and Chaldeans dealt extensively with the esoteric meaning of numbers. Pythagoras and his disciples also knew that everything in the universe is ordered according to a specific system - "by size and number."

For those of bygone epochs who believed in religion or magic, the divine represented the unity which connected them with everything. By tradition, the number one corresponds to this unity.

By contrast, the traditional scientific and analytical conception of the world dismantles, divides, differentiates. The epoch of science and technology is linked with the essence of the number two like no other, which to the ancients symbolized the multiplicity, differentiated and divided.

Hence, we already find ourselves in the midst of the mysteries of numerology. Correctly understood, it is a path leading from divine connection in the number one to the new connection with the entire cosmos in the number ten, the Path of Numbers.

Tabular Summary

Name: Emma Smith
Birthdate: 05/13/1968

Soul Number: 6
Personal Number: 5
Life Path Number: 11
Destiny Number: 6
Birthdate Number: 13
Power Number: 8

Main Challenge: 1

Pinnacle Numbers

1. to 30. year of life: 9

31. to 40. year of life: 1

From the 41. year of life: 11

Karmic Lessons: 3, 6, 7

Karmic Talents: 4

Emotional Impulse: E

The table below provides you with an overview of the correlations and analogies your Birthdate Number has in the outside world, i.e. your direct and indirect environment.

Emma, you will learn which main planet, day of the week, lucky days and lucky numbers, colors, gems, metals and musical tone conform with your nature, and hence have a particularly favorable impact for and on you.

You should bear one thing in mind in regard to the lucky days and lucky numbers: the table indicates only the single digit cardinal numbers.

However, you have a far broader range of numbers which are particularly advantageous to you. This is because all multi-digit numbers can always be traced back to a single digit cardinal number by calculating the sum of the digits. Example: the cardinal number 5 also includes 14 ( $1 + 4 = 5$ ), 23, 32, etc. as lucky numbers.

Equivalent in the Outer World

Your Main Planet:

Venus

Your Weekday:

Friday

Your Lucky Days and Numbers:

6, 5, 3, 9

Your Colors:

Bright and dark blue, bright red, pink and reddish orange

Your Precious Stone:

Turquoise, emeralds, turmaline, sapphire

Your Metals:

Copper

Your Musical Tone:

a

The Soul Number

The Soul Number gives you information about the true wishes and ideas which you harbor deep within you. Superficial materialistic endeavors are not involved here, but rather valuable goals and ideals which determine and guide your actions.

If you get a clear picture of these inner workings which direct your thoughts and deeds, you will be able to establish harmony among your secret desire, your inner strengths and your actual line of action. The Soul Number is based on the vowels of your complete birth name.

Your Soul Number: 6

Deep inside, you aspire to balance and harmonize with those around you. You feel secure in the company of individuals who appreciate your readiness to help, graciousness and sense of responsibility. Under this precondition, you will be a valuable adviser to your fellow human beings, one who tries and commits himself selflessly and honestly to addressing their needs.

Since you are not exactly the solo combatant type, it will be very important for you to pursue a task which is based on cooperation with like-minded people. However, you should be careful not to proceed too zealously and emotionally. Emma, this is because your actions will at times yield better results if you calmly analyze the existing situation, and then do what is necessary and sensible in a systematic and considered manner.

In addition, it would be desirable only to offer your help and support when they are actually required. Otherwise, you run the risk of creating dependencies which may have a negative effect in the long run.

The Personality Number

The Personality Number describes the relationship which exists between you and those around you. Analyzing it you discover how you affect other people, what kind of impression you leave on them, and how the people in your environment assess and view your behavior and conduct. The Personality Number is based on the consonants of your complete name at birth.

Your Personality Number: 5

Your cheerful, carefree and witty demeanor make you a popular and appreciated person within your environment. People feel that you do not play jokes at the expense of others, but do indeed bring up your own small weaknesses and flaws as well.

In a larger group of receptive and humorous individuals, you will therefore be at your best under certain conditions and leave everyone with a positive impression. However, Emma, be careful not to be too obtrusive and smug. Some of your contemporaries may definitely be offended by your propensity towards arrogance.

The Life Path Number

Your Life Path Number reveals your true destiny and tells you just what your mission in life is. This very important number provides you with information about the challenges, opportunities and possibilities for success which you will encounter on your path through life.

Only if you know which tasks and demands you must meet will you be able to really achieve the objectives suited to you.

With your Life Path Number, you will find out where your place in this world is, and what opportunities for development and progress are available to you. This number is based on all letters of your full name.

Your Life Path Number: 11

If you manage to express your intellectual talents in the appropriate manner, you will mature into an important leader on your path through life. Your creativity, strong intuition and originality here represent the gifts which establish the positive basic preconditions.

In any event, it will be important to tackle the imminent tasks and requirements with an internal harmony and poise. In other words, Emma, excessive ambition and tension would be absolutely inappropriate and deeply contradict your nature.

Therefore, you should rely on the ideas and brainstorming which will be at your disposal without undue exertion. You should also place special value on having your ideas and concepts become known to a wide segment of the public. The response which you will receive after doing so will demonstrate to you that you are on the right path.

The Destiny Number

Your Destiny Number tells you the basic preconditions under which you can design your future life. It specifies the conditions and circumstances which shape your existence and will influence your remaining path through life. Your innate disposition, gifts and talents, which you have had since being born, will be introduced and elaborated upon here in greater detail. The Destiny Number is derived from the date, month and year of your birth.

Your Destiny Number: 6

Because of your responsible and selfless basic attitude, opportunities will arise for you to be of great help to your fellow human beings in an advisory capacity. People appreciate your suggestions and assessments on situations because your reasoning is sincere and selfless.

Moreover, you do not focus on trivial advantages or temporary successes. Instead, your thoughts and deeds are far-sighted. You want to permanently and radically remedy certain abuses. As a result, because your helpfulness and empathy are linked with lofty goals, justice becomes a key concept in your life.

However, Emma, you sometimes, with all of your might, tend to patronize others and try to convince them of your own ideas. From time to time, this can result in your achieving the opposite of what you had actually intended. Therefore, be tolerant and generous enough to consider and accept other views as well.

The Birthdate Number

Your Birthdate Number provides you with information about how you can most sensibly and effectively translate your innate abilities and gifts into daily practice. It tells you how to beneficially and successfully incorporate your talents into specific activities and tasks, so as to achieve remarkable results in this way.

If you take careful heed of the appropriate conclusions, you will manage to bring your positive attributes and objectives into harmony with each other.

Your Birthdate Number: 13

Emma, your character is distinguished by common sense and a good eye for the realities of life. By far, not one for going on flights of fancy and building castles in the air, you calmly weigh the advantages and disadvantages of a project, and then arrive at a fair and justifiable decision.

This self-confident and considered approach might give you access to a management position. At any rate, you will be remarkably good at mastering activities and tasks in which organizational talent, exactness and persistence are at the front.

The Power Number

The Power Number embodies the knowledge which may be gained from your complete name at birth, as well as the date, month and year of your birth. As a result, you will learn more in this area about the defining guidelines and basic undercurrents of your existence. You will discern the red thread which runs through your life.

In this respect, the Power Number consists of the sum of your abilities and attributes, which were described in the previous analyses. This number tells you which objectives and wishes you should concentrate on as a mature personality.

Your Power Number: 8

Because you were primarily intent on establishing a secure foundation for your existence in the past, you now have the opportunity to evolve and develop your personal interests. In other words, Emma, you now have the chance to expand your activities to new areas and to broaden the scope of your objectives considerably.

In doing so, you will have to develop abilities and attributes which you may have neglected somewhat earlier. A sense of responsibility, trustworthiness, goal orientation and absolute reliability will play a greater role in your continued advancement than it did before.

But you will notice that tougher demands and tasks go hand in hand to shape and strengthen your personality. During periods of self-improvement and advancement, you will feel yourself to be in a position to overcome obstacles which you previously would have regarded as barely possible or even insurmountable.

The Challenge Number

Emma, our Challenge Number indicates potential difficulties and obstacles which you might encounter in life. It tells you how to better prepare for such situations, what suitable measures should be taken, or how one can mentally brace for such constellations.

Emma, be aware of one thing though: if you face the challenge, accept it and really want to overcome it, you will achieve your objectives.

Incidentally, Emma, it is possible that two numbers, i.e. two challenges, will apply to you in this area. However, this does not portend a difficult path through life. Instead, the obstacles which might arise are differentiated and divided into two currents in this way.

Main Challenge: 1

It is entirely possible that at times, you will find yourself in situations in which others set the tone and lay down guidelines and measures over your head.

You should make sure ahead of time that your views are heard and your assessment of the situation is given due consideration by the people around you during the preparatory phase. Make it absolutely clear that your energy and resolve make you someone who must be contended with at all times.

The Pinnacle Number

The Pinnacle Number gives vital hints on important changes and when they will peak in your life. Emma, his number tells you how to best behave in a particular situation and what changes may be necessary to master whatever problems the future may have in store for you.

Emma, it's quite possible that several Pinnacle Numbers apply to you. The explanations then refer to several different consecutive stages of your life, each with its own main focus.

1 . to 30 . year of life

Pinnacle: 9

You could experience a phase of inner fulfillment and satisfaction if you care with sensitivity and courtesy for the interests of those around you. Co-operation and togetherness are the watchwords here, so don't be egoistic or high-handed.

31 . to 40 . year of life

Pinnacle: 1

Independence and the ability to stand on your own feet are expected of you. You should not, therefore, rely too heavily on help from others in achieving your personal goals. If you can summon up the necessary courage, you will be able to institute important changes and improvements yourself.

from the 41 . year of life

Pinnacle: 11

Because of your optimism and intellectual ability, an important phase in your life will soon begin. If you make the best use of your opportunities, you could play an important role in public life.

Karmic Lesson Number

Emma, the Karmic Lesson Number indicates which of your talents have not been developed to the necessary and desirable extent. For example, you will discover which attributes must be brought more to the fore in order to actually guarantee your personal success.

In this case, it's again possible that several numbers, i.e. several karmic lessons, might apply to your birth name. Face up to whatever weaknesses may be mentioned. It makes no sense for you to suppress or deny them. Emma, this is an important lesson for your growth in life.

Karmic Lesson: 3

So far, you have not been able to develop your self-confidence and independence to a sufficient degree. Go ahead and show more confidence in yourself and you should place more importance on your achievements and actually receiving the recognition they deserve.

Karmic Lesson: 6

At times, your sense of responsibility leaves something to be desired, especially with respect to your immediate environment. Therefore, you should place importance on treating your fellow human beings with more courtesy, attentiveness and devotion.

Karmic Lesson: 7

As your life continues, it will become very important for you to give more consideration to improving your mental faculties. Therefore, do not shy away from devoting intensive and concentrated attention to more complicated tasks and questions.

Karmic Talent Number

The Karmic Talent Number provides you with information about your natural talents and abilities. If you manage to express these innate attributes in the appropriate manner, you will be able to lead a successful and fulfilling life.

It is again possible in this area that several numbers, i.e. several karmic talents, might apply to your birth name. Emma, make determined and resolute use of the opportunities afforded to you throughout the rest of your life.

Karmic Talent: 4

Your eye for subtleties and ability to accomplish a task in a well-planned and well-organized manner will greatly assist you in your future actions. However, you should stay clear of any spontaneous adventures on your own.

The Vowel of the Emotional Impulse

The emotional impulse vowel describes your behavior with respect to your environment. It indicates how you react to certain external influences and effects. In this way, you discover more about the real motives which underlie your actions, which are very often directly (inter)related to the behavior of your fellow human beings.

On the one hand, because of your inner attitude, you will have a very strong influence on certain statements or events and the resulting feelings and sentiments arising will then in turn shape your thoughts and deeds. On the other hand, you will react in a much more detached, composed and calm manner to other circumstances because these hardly affect your innermost thoughts.

Your Vowel of the Emotional Impulse: E

Because of your versatility and energy, you will seek out contact with people who are also interested in change and variety. Such relationships can yield many exciting and unusual experiences if you do not always try to be the one dominating the relationship.

On the other hand, one fact is completely indisputable: your thoughts and actions are geared towards public reception. Emma, you want to give other people the opportunity to share in your insights and ideas. In a certain sense, you need to put yourself on stage because you are anything but a loner.

Nonetheless, it happens quite frequently that you proceed in too impetuous and reckless a manner, and do not act with sufficient foresight. You then allow yourself to get carried away by your emotions, and under certain conditions, only regain control with difficulty once it is underway. In spite of your spontaneity and informality, you should exhibit a little more forethought and composure every now and then.

Chinese Horoscope

In the Chinese culture, soothsaying and forecasts about future events, developments and conditions have a long tradition, which extend far into the past. In this respect, one of the oldest and most mysterious forms of looking into the future was the so called oracle.

This was comprised of prophecies which were divined from the outer graphic form and consistency of animal bones.

Another method of obtaining knowledge about the future, consisted of drawing straws of different lengths.

In comparison, astrology itself clearly has not relied upon such coincidental circumstances, but for more than 2,500 years its extremely significant forecasts, analyses and appraisals have been based upon the various constellations of certain planets, stars and heavenly bodies to each other. Great significance is thereby placed especially on the moon.

Considering its relationship to the planets and distance from the horizon, clearly outlined forecasts about the future were and are being made by Chinese astrologers.

The Fivefold Path to sublime understanding underlying this analysis has its origin in thousand year old traditions and experiences of the Chinese astrologers. In order to appreciate the implications, significance, and merit of this Fivefold Path, Emma, you should be aware of one underlying fact: in the past, Chinese scholars, scientists and philosophers, as well as astrologers and astronomers, who dealt intensively with the mysterious and fascinating field of studying the stars and celestial bodies, consigned conspicuous and important powers - yes, even magical properties - to the number five. For according to their concept there existed five planets, the firmament could be divided into five spheres, nature was based on five elements and there were five basic colors.

Thus the Fivefold Path to sublime understanding reveals to you the unique possibility of learning how to perceive and, above all, understand your true self, your inner feelings, and your true disposition with all your abilities and talents.

Each single path leads you through a different part of your psyche. But be sure of this: an overall view of your true character in its entirety will only be possible when you have gone down the five different paths, one after another. Only when you have finally reached the decisive point where the five paths meet, will it be possible for you to grasp the real core and heart of your being.

One's own ego, the true self, inherent talents, and inclinations are what decides our primary interests. Our goal is self-knowledge which influences the derivate of such important factors in life as private and personal fulfillment.

Step by step, with the help of this personal reading and interpretation, which is described in clear, easy to understand form, you will be able to start down the path towards the exploration of your spiritual life - with all of its resulting consequences for your individual happiness. The goal of this comprehensive and astonishing analysis is to know and understand your essence.

Summary

Name: Emma Smith

Date of Birth: 05/13/1968

Time of Birth: 03:39 a.m.

Animal Year: Ape

Season: Wood

Doubleweek: Summer

House of the Moon: Ox

Hour of Birth: Dragon

The First Path

The Animal Year

Emma, the first path relating to your year of birth provides information about your character, traits, and attributes which shape your individual nature. In this area, you will learn more about your disposition, which forms the basis of your actions.

In Chinese astrology, the first path on the way towards sublime understanding is divided into twelve different animal symbols. This method, which has been practiced for many centuries without interruption, designates a specific animal to each year. It dates back roughly to the year 600 B.C.

Because only a dozen animals are involved (rat, buffalo, tiger, rabbit, dragon, snake, horse, goat, ape, rooster, dog and pig), there is a regular cycle which repeats itself every twelve years.

Your Animal Year: Ape

One defining characteristic of your nature is the flexibility and adaptability with which you go through life. You love diversity and change, and would like nothing better than handling three tasks at once, if it were up to you.

However, Emma, your dynamic and vivacious outlook on life can occasionally manifest itself in downright restlessness and fidgeting. The positive aspect to your activity combined with a healthy ambition lies in the fact that your curiosity and interest for the unusual can turn you into an inquiring person.

By your very temperament, you love company and grand events. You benefit greatly from one attribute: due to your wit, you are excellent at entertaining your fellow human beings and making them laugh.

Your ability to adapt yourself to existing conditions enables you to get along well with all kinds of characters and people.

Their inventiveness makes apes able to handle the most varied of tasks. Therefore, it should actually come as no surprise that such diverse personalities as Leonardo da Vinci, Kant, Dickens, Carl Zuckmayer or Herbert von Karajan were born in this year.

Among others, Buster Keaton and Elizabeth Taylor prove that people born in the year of the ape can definitely possess marked acting abilities.

Apes are able to establish very good relationships with rats and dragons. As a rule, a strong relationship is possible with goats as well.

The Second Path

The Season of Birth

The second path is based on the time of year in which you were born, and leads to a deeper area of your inner life. It reveals the actual purpose which you see in your life, the grand mission in life which you set for yourself within your soul. At the same time, it describes the best, but also the most difficult aspects of your personality: your true spiritual aspirations, and your secret wishes on the path towards individual happiness.

Emma, this second path dates back to the ancient Chinese tradition of dividing all of life into five basic conceptual categories. The individual categories correspond to the elements wood, fire, earth, metal and water.

Consequently, the element along with its specific properties may be derived from the time of year in which you were born.

Your Season: Wood

Emma, you see the grand mission in your life as making an important contribution towards having the people in your immediate and extended environment associate with each other in an amicable and reasonable manner. Accordingly, your sense of community is highly developed, and your predominant attributes are kindness, courtesy, consideration and tolerance.

In your soul, you want to put a large and important project into action together with another person. In this case, you do not place importance on personal triumph and actual profit, but on fair and friendly cooperation, which affords all participants the same rights and obligations.

Even if you do not want to admit it, in your heart of hearts, you aspire towards a balanced and harmonious life which stands in harmony with the laws and rules of nature. Your focus is not on possessions and wealth. Instead, you prefer a simple and natural life style which gives you a sense of internal equilibrium.

Therefore, it comes as no surprise that your favorite color is green. This color plays an especially big role for you when you are physically or mentally exhausted and drained. Seeing and surrounding yourself with green invigorates and relaxes you in the necessary manner.

Your lucky number is eight.

The Third Path The Birth Doubleweek

The third path arises from the respective double week of your birth and describes an important part of your personality. It gives you, Emma, an answer to the question regarding your special talents and capabilities, but beyond that it also deals with your characteristic weaknesses.

As a whole, this area relates to the aspects of your social and political nature. It also elucidates your relationship to society and community, as well as your attitude towards work and routine affairs and occurrences.

On the third path, Chinese astrology encompasses 24 different double weeks (chi), which are acquired by halving the twelve months.

Your Doubleweek: Summer

By your very nature, you strike an extremely reasonable and sensible compromise in your work between your desire for mobility and independence, and your requirement for safety and security. Among other things, this is reflected in the fact that you can remain dedicated to a path once begun for an amazingly long time without losing interest.

This is because you have decided on your vocation with care and deliberation, as you do not wish to leave anything to chance. Emma, you place more emphasis on thoroughness and the clean, orderly execution of an activity, than on quickness and a fast, but not optimal results.

In addition to having common sense, you are distinguished by a remarkable talent for financial affairs. Beyond that, regardless of your specific task, you have a striking feel for colors and shapes, which betrays an artistic gift.

Your weaknesses stem primarily from the fact that you often do not develop enough determination and initiative. While you are generally convinced that you have a lot of new ideas and concepts, this is not always the case in reality.

Finally, you are occasionally too hesitant and content in terms of your objectives and (justified) ambitions. You could definitely exhibit more of a readiness to assume responsibility and leadership.

Your political viewpoint is characterized by a measure of tolerance which permits you to examine different opinions and outlooks without prejudice. What you love about politics is the capacity to recognize and evaluate future developments early on. Subsequently, whoever is able to adjust themselves to new and not necessarily foreseeable facts will be the recipient of your unlimited sympathy.

The Fourth Path

House of the Moon

The fourth path is derived from the precise date of your birth and enables a very graduated and differentiated glance at your personality. Emma, it describes your inner emotional and mental shifts, and can therefore provide information about your ability to establish friendships and a deep relationship on a partnership basis.

The fourth path characterizes your emotional predisposition and describes your inner reactions towards life and your fellow human beings.

The fourth stage on the path towards comprehensive self-awareness is based on the total of 28 Chinese moon houses (hsui). The hsui applicable to you may be precisely calculated based on your date of birth.

Your House of the Moon: Ox

Emma, you are a trustworthy and reliable person who owns up to his responsibility and tasks. Your fellow human beings value you in particular because your advice holds water, and since people can actually set stock by your promises and assurances once they have been given.

The way in which you think and act is shaped by realism, circumspection and objectivity. You do not hold a high opinion of unrealistic plans and unreasonable expectations. Instead, you stand with both feet on the ground and remain true to your principles.

On the other hand, this practical attitude towards life is associated with a certain level of immobility, if not even rigidity. You shrink from change, and rather fall back on experiences gained in the past.

Therefore, while your discipline, ambitious energy, and stamina are remarkable, you simultaneously lack the courage to take risks and a willingness to embark upon new and unconventional paths.

This attitude is also reflected in your circle of friends: you do not gravitate towards acquaintances who change quickly and are subject to passing moods, but have no sound foundation.

You would rather secure good and reliable friends who will stand by the other person even in difficult situations, and not just keep their distance. In this case, you realize full well that strong friendships such as these can only remain intact over the long run on the basis of give and take.

Therefore, you will aspire to a close partnership in which a strong bond exists between the two life-companions, and one person does not seek to derive benefit at the expense of the other. You might find it difficult to choose a suitable partner at first. However, you are nearly impossible to shake in your thoughtful devotion and loyalty once you have decided.

The Fifth Path

The Hour of Birth

The fifth path may be traced back to the hour of your birth and has to do with the area of your inner life, which is most clearly perceptible to the people around you. It tells you, Emma, more about the external aspects of your nature and relates essentially to the impact and impression which you leave with your fellow human beings, even though you are not even aware of this at all in most instances.

For this last path towards the sublime understanding of your personality, Chinese astrology again makes use of the twelve animal symbols which you already know from the first path (year of birth). For every two hours of a day, a different animal characterizes the external aspect of the human psyche.

Your Hour of Birth: Dragon

The people around you sense rapidly that you are an independently thinking and acting person who places great value on not going with the tide. People respect your need for independence and freedom, since you generally embody these attributes in a convincing manner.

However, this does not mean that your fellow human beings are not somewhat surprised at times at your decisions and resolutions, to put it tactfully. These intentions and objectives do not always have to arise from reason or the given circumstances. Instead, you frequently tend to react in an unpredictable and exceedingly spontaneous manner.

This flighty behavior reveals a character trait which plagues you to a considerable extent: you want to set yourself apart from the masses and deliberately ignore their customs and standards or even turn them upside down and do so in an occasionally forced and exaggeratedly obvious fashion.

In principle, there is absolutely nothing wrong with this tendency towards intellectual and material independence. It only becomes inappropriate when you act against your very own interests by doing so, only because you want to demonstrate your distinctive feature and uniqueness for everyone to see.

Since, in a certain respect, you are a distinct individualist who shies away from any and all commitments, you often want to avoid dealing with your fellow human beings. As a person who is convinced of your own abilities and knows where you are going, you will hardly join any larger groups or associations.

At the same time, Emma, you will keep the number of your acquaintances to a minimum because a few really good friendships are much more important to you than various random acquaintances who cannot be trusted or called upon in cases of doubt.

Native American Horoscope

Within numerous tribes and cultures of far reaching branches of America's native peoples, the Indians had, in spite of all the differences due to their history, their surroundings, the conditions influencing their existence, their material cultural heritage, their social environment and their religious concepts, one significant and substantial thing in common, as proved by countless examples.

We can gather from many very old yet reliable traditional sources, Emma, that the Indians didn't see the individual person as separate and divided from their individual environment. According to their point of view, which hasn't lost any of its validity and power of perception, even in the present day, every person builds a rather intimate and invisible whole with the nature surrounding him.

An individual's true self, his real power and possibilities, his character traits, his abilities and last but not least his responsibility, can only be revealed and laid bare, according to Indian interpretations on the fundamental condition that we come to the realization of the higher interaction between mankind and nature.

Accordingly Indian astrology assigns every individual person to a certain animal (snowgoose, otter, puma, hawk, beaver, deer, woodpecker, sturgeon, brown bear, raven, snake, elk), a certain plant (birch, aspen, plantain, dandelion, blue camass plant, yarrow, dog-rose, raspberry, violet, mullein, thistle, black spruce) and a certain mineral (quartz, silver, turquoise, opal, chrysocolla, moss agate, carnelian, granite, amethyst, red jasper, copper, obsidian).

However, the transcending and all encompassing perspective of the Native American horoscope goes one important step further: namely, it also takes the four cardinal points of the compass and the four basic elements (earth, water, air, fire) into consideration in its analysis.

In order to better understand and integrate the Indian way of thinking with its characteristic conceptions, we have to be clear on one point: in their mind, all of human existence moves in a circle which moves from birth to death to rebirth.

This circle, which fundamentally determines their outlook on things, had great importance even in everyday life - as demonstrated by numerous examples. In many various rites, customs and ceremonies, the magical circle played just as large a role as the meetings, councils and festivities. Moreover, different Indian tribes often lay their lodgings in the form of a circle.

According to Indian perspective, the date of birth of a person decides the exact point upon which that individual in question enters the circle. The corresponding phase can be assigned in direct relationship to the twelve moons - the spectrum reaches from the moon of earth's renewal to the moon of the long snow.

In this context, restrictions, boundaries and stagnation were unknown to Indian astrology. It goes on the assumption that each person has the possibility within his/her lifetime to continually widen his/her horizon and advance to higher levels of consciousness through new perceptions and insights. In respect to the described circle, this means that at a certain point, birth, each human being enters this circle. Mind you, this is only the individual's personal starting point, for now he has been given the marvelous opportunity to move within the circle, to traverse it, as it were.

In the Indian way of thinking, therefore, it would be improper to persist at your starting point, tantamount to rigidity, inflexibility and inertia. Instead, man has the task during his lifetime to get to know and explore different moons, animals, plants, minerals and elements.

Only by doing justice to his true destiny, and broadening and deepening his knowledge, will he live a happy, contented and fulfilled life in harmony with nature and with his natural endowment.

Summary

Name: Emma Smith

Birthdate: 05/13/1968

Moon:

The Moon of the Returning Frog

Animal Totem: The Beaver

Plant Totem: The Blue Camass Plant

Mineral Totem: The Chrysocolla

Favorable relationships:

Brown Bear, Snow Goose, Snake, Woodpecker and Puma

Cardinal Point:

Wabun - The Eastern Force

Element Clan:

The Tortoise

The Moon of the Returning Frog

Your Animal Totem: The Beaver

Your animal totem indicates that you are someone who persistently and tirelessly works at decisively improving your own living conditions and those of the people around you.

Correspondingly, you will attach great importance to attractively and pleasantly organizing your home, as this is a place that means a great deal to you. Like the beaver you need this private space that provides you with safety and security.

Accordingly, you have a skeptical attitude towards radical changes and unexpected alterations: You much prefer to proceed in a planned and well thought-out way so that at any time you keep control over events in your surroundings.

On the other hand this does not mean that you tend towards laziness or sluggishness. On the contrary, Emma, your imagination and your creative abilities are absolutely remarkable and you are often successful in demonstrating astonishing ways of solving a problem.

Occasionally, when first in unfamiliar surroundings, you behave like the beaver - very reserved and distanced. You will most certainly avoid straining to be the center of interest because this would definitely not be in keeping with your quiet nature.

You will only be more receptive and informal after a period of settling in and getting acquainted and then you won't make a secret out of your views and ideas - but you still won't be willing to let anyone know your deep feelings and true emotions.

Your Plant Totem: The Blue Camass Plant

This plant was an extremely important source of food for the native Indians. The underground tubers of the blue camass plant were very tasty after they had been cooked. In addition, it contained an active substance which reduced the level of blood sugar.

This plant totem combines two characteristics together which at first glance almost contradict each other. On the one hand, many legends have grown up around the blue camass plant because its impressive blossoms made it a fascinating specimen and also because it was a most welcome and useful plant which guaranteed food for many Indian tribes.

This dualism may also apply to you, Emma. On the one hand, you have a clear understanding of how to build an atmosphere of coziness and beauty and on the other hand you have the gift of standing by your fellow man in word and deed.

Your well established nature and deep roots put you in the position of being able to provide others with the support and backing that they so urgently need. Your inner peace and balanced nature carry this composure over to those around you and make relaxed and peaceful conditions possible.

Your Mineral Totem: The Chrysocolla

To the primitive people, this noteworthy gem, whose blue-green color brings to mind the turquoise, was a symbol of a union between the sky and life on earth.

Furthermore, the chrysocolla played an important role in many rituals and ceremonies as it had been granted the ability to purify the body and soul of man.

Emma, your mineral totem points out to you that you should not commit yourself exclusively or even too much to earthly matters but instead, like the chrysocolla, you should build a connection between the spheres and cosmic powers.

In your endeavor to provide for order, clarity and stability you sometimes tend to neglect the intellectual level of the consciousness and of the inner experience. Accordingly, it should be your goal to channel your attention and energy to this area as well. You will push forward to gain insight and understanding which were previously not accessible to you.

Good Combinations

The people who were born under the influence of the Moon of the Returning Frogs will be able to build good relationships with people who belong to the animal totem of the brown bear, the snow goose, the snake, the woodpecker and the puma.

Your Cardinal Point: Wabun - The Eastern Force

You are under the influence of the eastern power and belong to that group of people who are able to revive and improve momentary conditions because of their drive and energy. You feel strongly attached to certain earthly (worldly) things but should not limit your thoughts and actions to these things.

Emma, you will gain entrance to a higher plane of awareness when you let your inherent talents unfold in a natural and relaxed way, which was previously barred. Your naturalness and trustworthiness let you establish a connection between these two spheres.

In broadening your consciousness and your knowledge you won't get out of your depth because you will also be concerned about taking the realities of life into consideration.

The eastern power basically gives you a chance to accomplish remarkable results and to introduce radical changes. You will only be able to fulfill your destiny when you find your inner equilibrium and tackle your objectives calmly and perceptively.

If you stride impetuously ahead, all tensed up and determined, your inner energies will soon turn against you and cause you considerable difficulties. If your fellow men feel that you are behaving dominantly and arrogantly, the relationship with those around you will noticeably worsen.

It is of great importance to your further development that you develop your willingness to cooperate and become capable of rationally working together with your environment. As soon as you are able to properly channel your thirst for action and your determination, you will, in cooperation with those around you, achieve the appropriate results of your abilities.

Your Element Clan: The Tortoise

The clan of the tortoise is assigned to the element that is the most predictable and trustworthy - earth. In keeping with this, you are a mature person who has accepted the realities of life and is well aware of your responsibilities.

Emma, you are anything other than a superficial, adventurous type who cares little about the consequences of your actions.

By contrast, once you have chosen a particular path you proceed deliberately and persistently. Your patience is absolutely remarkable in this: You carry on undeterred to accomplish your goal where others would have long since thrown in the towel.

Incidentally, your well thought-out strategy keeps you from nasty surprises and difficulties occurring unexpectedly.

You view radical changes and drastic adjustments skeptically. You don't like rushed decisions, the implications of which have yet to be included in the thought process. In your opinion, it makes significantly more sense to gradually introduce any changes deemed necessary, so as not to lose control over what occurs.

Those around you have grown to highly value your dependability and loyalty and there are enough occasions for your fellow men to discover that you are a trustworthy person to talk with and to whom one can turn with worries and problems.

In such instances you are in a position to make reasonable and constructive suggestions as your thoughts and actions are not dominated by self-centered motives. In addition you also are able to provide your fellow human beings with the support he/she needs as you stand by your claims and are not influenced by mood-swings.

Karmic Horoscope

The Karmic law which underpins this horoscope is based on a seemingly self-evident, but often ignored principle: Every cause has an effect, and conversely, every effect may be traced back to a specific cause in the past.

In numerous questions of everyday life, we accept this obvious relationship. But when it comes to understanding and probing our current existence, we all too often ignore this fundamental correlation. If you open yourself to the insights of the Karmic horoscope, you will recognize the red thread which shapes your current life and has made you into the person you are today. This is because the Karmic law establishes an impressive connection between your past, i.e. your earlier life, your present and your future.

Only if you are willing to bring together the concepts of space and time will you be able to fulfill your true destiny. Therefore, it is not by chance that your present existence manifests itself in the current form. Your present incarnation is rather the effect of earlier causes rooted in the past. The way you feel and think today, your behavioral patterns, intentions and plans may be traced back to experiences which you made at some point in the past, possibly a long time ago.

Emma, as soon as you have realized the continuity and perpetuity of your existence, you can embark on the path toward perfecting your soul. It is up to you alone to take advantage of the opportunities and chances given you, because whoever is aware of their past can create the preconditions for a happy and promising future in the real-life present. In this way, you establish new causes which will soon bring about the corresponding effects.

The Lunar Nodes

Knowing your two individual lunar nodes is extremely important for the further development of your personality. The descending or southerly lunar node reveals your past, summarizing the experiences and events with which you were confronted in your earlier incarnations and forms of existence. In this way, you will recognize the foundation of your present existence. You will understand why you exhibit certain modes of behavior in your current incarnation and why you nurture the corresponding wishes and notions.

Emma, the ascending or northerly lunar node, which lies opposite the descending lunar node, is the symbol of the future. It points out the path which will lead you to a perfection of your soul. The knowledge and insights which the ascending lunar node imparts to you will help you to greet new experiences with confidence and courage. Knowing the objective of your forward progress will also prevent you from being hobbled or disheartened by apparent obstacles: This is because you have recognized that your further development and future existence will chiefly depend on seizing the initiative and confronting the arising challenges. Just as the descending lunar node casts light on your past, so does the ascending lunar node allow you to establish the conditions for a promising future in the present. However, you must always be clear about one thing: Only if you manage to free yourself from the past in your thoughts and actions will you be able to achieve the northerly lunar node.

Ascending Lunar Node - Aries Descending Lunar Node - Libra

Your descending lunar node signals that, in your previous forms of existence, you often traveled the path of least resistance, and pushed your own views and ideas into the background. In many phases, you were too intent on complying with the wishes of the people around you, so that you almost inevitably failed to develop your personality.

In order to achieve your ascending lunar node, it will be critically important to place more emphasis on your own interests and intentions in the future, especially in your current existence. By getting to know yourself better and following your inner voice, you will be able to shape your individuality, so as to achieve a higher measure of self-reliance and independence in this way.

In the past, you too often defined your own person from the reactions of your fellow human beings. Your main focus was directed at pleasing others and acceding to their concerns. In your present life, you must perform a different task: Emma, you have to find your position and offensively support it. In this way, you will manage to make optimum use of the existing opportunities. Do not let yourself get diverted from your path by the behavioral modes and opinions of the people around you. You have it within your power to create the preconditions for a promising future here and now.

Ascending Lunar Node in the 1st House Descending Lunar Node in 7th House

In your earlier incarnations, you too often made the mistake of gearing yourself toward the opinions of the people around you. In an effort to satisfy the wishes and concerns of your fellow human beings, you neglected your own interests, at times dreadfully. Your sense of balance and accord quite frequently resulted in your consenting to rules which were decidedly disadvantageous to you.

Emma, your ascending lunar node signals that it is critically important in your current life to discover and recognize your true self. In the past, you were wrapped up in observing the reactions and behaviors of the people around you. Now the time has come for you to develop more self-reliance and independence. While you were sooner willing to subordinate yourself and follow the instructions of others in your previous forms of existence, one of your essential tasks now is to take responsibility yourself and grow into a leadership position. In this case, it is highly probable that you will not proceed in an excessively egotistical and high-handed manner.

Even on the path toward your ascending lunar node, you will not lose sight of the interests of your fellow human beings. As a consequence, the changes to be introduced will not be abrupt or radical. Rather, they will involve a longer process of self-discovery.

Aspects of Lunar Nodes

Ascending Lunar Node Conjunction Saturn

Descending Lunar Node Opposition Saturn

**(***)

In the past, you frequently made the mistake of relying on your analytical mind and thoughtlessly placing all events and appearances into specific categories. This excessively rational approach has allowed your emotional life to atrophy, and was responsible for you – having to battle an inner dissatisfaction. In your present incarnation, it will therefore be crucial for you to include your feelings and sentiments to a greater extent and develop your intuitive abilities.

Ascending Lunar Node Sextile Mercury Descending Lunar Node Trine Mercury (* )

Your quick mind and marked responsiveness enable you to find your bearings rapidly in unfamiliar situations and instinctively make the right decisions. Your adaptability, not to be confused with opportunism, will open up promising vistas for you if you manage to inspire those around you with enthusiasm for your objectives and ideas. Provided you are not selfish and arbitrary, all parties concerned will benefit from this.

Retrograde Planets

The apparent retrograde motion of some planets visible from the Earth is very much ignored in numerous astrological interpretations, even though this phenomenon can provide important information with regard to the development of your personality and your former past. Valuable insights relating to earlier incarnations may be derived based on the retrograde planet or planets applicable to you: Possible difficulties which confront you in your current life may be understood and correctly classified if you become aware of your past and resist the temptation of repeating the same mistakes again. In this way, Emma, you will manage to overcome existing inhibitions and optimally develop the abilities residing within you.

Uranus-Virgo

In your earlier incarnations, you gained valuable experiences which can now help you to realize demanding goals. In this case, it will be critical for you to proceed with patience and circumspection, and not to be thrown off by shortcomings in your environment.

Uranus in the 6th House

In the present, Emma, you obviously have trouble adhering to specific principles and rules in your course of action. This behavior may be attributed to the fact that, in your earlier incarnations, you did not always have the leeway which would have facilitated the development of your abilities. In your current life, your task will therefore be to combine both components by attaching value to your independence, but also aspiring to work in a systematic and orderly fashion at the same time.

Neptune-Scorpio

In your previous forms of existence, your critical mind and marked discernment tempted you to speak mercilessly and openly about the failings and shortcomings of the people around you. In your current incarnation, you should exhibit a higher level of consideration and tolerance. Use your intellectual abilities to effect an improvement in conditions.

Neptune in the 8th House

In a bid not to miss any favorable opportunity, Emma, you concentrated too unilaterally on multiplying your fortune in phases of your earlier incarnations, revealing distinctly egotistical traits in the process. Since anxieties about appropriate financial security were in principle unfounded, you should try and develop more composure and generosity in the present.

The Point of Fulfillment

The stage of fulfillment denotes the phase in your life in which you experience the satisfied feeling that your deep wishes and desires are in accord with your actual existence. You intensively feel the inner harmony and satisfaction, which may be attributed to the fact that you were able to realize your ideas and concepts in a way appropriate to your individual needs. Emma, this feeling of happiness and joy can only come about if you have previously established the necessary prerequisites and conditions.

In other words: The fact that you have reached this state was not accidental or mysteriously predetermined by fate. Rather, there might have been some hurdles to overcome and rather difficult challenges to meet along the path to the stage of fulfillment.

Only after you have managed to keep sight of your goal despite all of the external influences will you receive the chance to enter this stage. You will then have an inner contentment because you have liberated yourself from external constraints and guidelines and now reflect the image which you had of yourself in your most pleasant dreams.

Point of Fulfillment - Libra

You will feel the best in a harmonious environment in which everyone values and respects the wishes and interests of their fellow human beings. On the one hand, you seek the necessary safety and security in such an atmosphere of balance and accord. On the other hand, you are also ready to render assistance and support to other people.

You will achieve your individual stage of fulfillment under the precondition that you can optimally develop your empathy, sense of tact and understanding nature. You will then forego egocentric and selfish plans, and focus your efforts on serving the group. This imbedding in a sensible whole fills you with a deep feeling of inner satisfaction.

Point of Fulfillment in the 7th House

You experience a deep feeling of inner satisfaction and harmony in cases where you have managed to improve the living conditions of your fellow human beings. Since you do not let yourself be guided by egotistical motives, you only become truly happy at the point where the people around you live in an atmosphere of accord and balance. In order to achieve this lofty goal, you are willing to moderate your own demands.

By no means do you regard this reserve and limitation as a sacrifice. It rather corresponds with your selfless and unselfish attitude of not putting yourself too much in the spotlight. Emma, you will achieve your personal stage of fulfillment when you feel that your assistance and support are falling on fertile ground.

Indian Horoscope

Emma, the predictions and interpretations of Indian astrology are based on precise, regularly recurring cycles which hold the meaning of the diverse heavenly bodies responsible for our earthly existence. In particular, the moon plays an important role in this. The phases of the moon, which are also known as Tithis for example, give information about important currents of energy which decisively influence our thinking and emotions.

It is the Indian belief that we are embedded in a comprehensive system of cosmic laws which mold our existence and are able to explain our diverse feelings and judgments. There are many phenomena and manifestations that can't be explained with conventional rules of logic and rationality. We will only be able to understand them when we are willing to see them in context with the overall picture. Accordingly, the separating elements and the seemingly perceptible differences are not at the forefront of Indian astrology. Rather, it is in its unveiling and revelations that the Indian horoscope is more concerned with showing the common ground and similarities that were previously hidden from us.

You don't shrink away from unusual challenges or tasks as it is in your nature to be bold and courageous. Generally speaking, you don't make the mistake of plunging blindly into adventures - you are willing to weigh up matters more than others would and you check thoroughly before you start anything whether or not a commitment to the affair in question really is a good idea.

Once a positive decision has been reached one can be sure that you will go about persistently and untiringly to manage the work that lies before you. Your remarkable energy levels mean that even unpleasant side-effects or unforeseen difficulties cannot throw you off track. Emma, you know exactly what it is that you want to accomplish and therefore, in your view, turning back or giving up are absolutely out of the question.

You have the ability to spur those around you on to extraordinary achievements with your decisive action and your positive charisma and you are able to represent your ideas convincingly. Basically, when working with your fellow men you always take care that the interests of all those involved are protected - egotistical soloists are therefore not your line.

The Day of the Moon - Monday

Your sentimentality and your distinctive capacity to understand make you a sensitive person who is also aware of stimuli and impressions which remain hidden from most of your fellow men. It generally isn't difficult for you, therefore, to put yourself in the position of those around you. At the same time your tactfulness and your kindness mean that people know to respect your valuable advice and tips. Emma, you don't make the mistake of trying too hard to make yourself the center of attention and are much more concerned with giving everyone in your surroundings the freedom of movement they require. Because of your understanding and tolerant manner you fundamentally don't have any difficulty in creating an atmosphere of harmony and balance. Being over sensitive, however, can lead to unexpected and unpleasant mood-swings. You therefore shouldn't be too dependent on outside influences but instead should emphasize your steadfastness more strongly.

In this way you will be successful in overcoming periods of inner uncertainty and developing your dependability and calculability to a higher degree. This positive change in your behavior will soon be noticed by those around you and be ultimately responsible for an improvement in the relationship you have with your fellow men.

The thirtieth Tithi

Your feeling that you are no match for particular challenges or situations, which in principle is unfounded, is in many cases responsible for you not developing your talents and abilities to their full potential. You are too quick to let reproaches or critical remarks throw you off track and consequently forego clearly and plainly expressing your own point of view.

In order for you to be able to break this negative cycle it is of prime importance that you develop more faith in your individual strengths. Upon closer inspection it is absolutely not necessary for you to hide your light under a bushel. So, if some contemporaries want to persuade you that some plan or another is far too risky or too difficult, it is probably connected to the fact that the people concerned see their own interests being jeopardized.

Emma, you will fundamentally be able to strengthen your self-confidence if you devote yourself to a task that questions your persistence, your analytical mind and your power of judgment. With each and every success that you can show within the framework of this occupation, your inner calmness and security will grow and you will be able to respond to outside attempts to influence you with the required amount of composure and strong nerves.

Your Moon House: Anuradha

You are an enterprising person who is eager to learn, enjoys new experiences and wants to go through unusual adventures. You therefore don't stick to well-trodden paths and instead highly value pursuing unusual and unconventional paths. It hardly bothers you at all that your plans and ideas are occasionally met with skepticism and opposition - these types of responses make you even more determined to come up to your own high standards.

As you are basically a optimistic and positive thinking person, you have no desire to just filter out the negative elements of a particular situation and then complain bitterly about it. This kind of behavior contradicts your basic nature too deeply. Even when difficulties or adversities occur you can see that there is an opportunity for overcoming the obstacle in question and reaching a pleasant result.

Some people possibly characterize this attitude as being shallow or naive. They soon ask themselves, however, about the extraordinary results you have accomplished without having gone to any great effort. Emma, this ease and straightforwardness give you an inner calm that keeps you from proceeding too impetuously and recklessly.

Astrological Occupation Analysis

Emma, the astrological significance of your individual constellation can give you important advice and tips, especially with respect to the future of your career and your professional success. If you are prepared to deal with the statements of the astrological career analysis in an unbiased and unprejudiced manner, you will be able to obtain valuable knowledge and insights that can have a decisive influence on your further professional advancement.

Judgments and opinions from society in general are less important in the selection of a career that is suitable and appropriate to your character: rather, your personal aptitude and ability to perform a certain activity well and gratifyingly are in the foreground. For this reason don't let the interference and influence of those around you dissuade you from your own true ideas. It has too often been the case that a wrong and inappropriate career choice has had long-term consequences that reach far beyond the actual sphere of activity. Inner dissatisfaction, psychosomatic illness, and profound disruption of your inner life may be the consequences if you decide, against your inner convictions and your true nature, upon a career which does not correspond to your abilities and capabilities.

But if you decide to pursue an occupation that corresponds to your nature and your strengths and gifts, with respect to your career you will be able to achieve results and successes of which you earlier could only have dreamed. Astrological vocational analysis enables you to live up to your true destiny; in this way you will not only pursue a particular career, you will meet your real calling.

Such significant writers and poets as Maxim Gorky, Charles Baudelaire, Nikolai Gogol, Wilhelm Busch, Hans Christian Andersen, and Emile Zola were born under your sign of the Zodiac. Their words, which were original and trailblazing, have lost none of their meaning to this day.

The versatility and the artistic abilities of Aries are underscored by such different personalities as Joseph Haydn, Johann Sebastian Bach, Vincent van Gogh, and Francisco de Goya. Emma, the most radiant and famous example may be Leonardo da Vinci, who made history with his pioneering inventions and developments and who was exceptional in the artistic realm.

In the field of politics and philosophy Ferdinand Lassalle, Charlemagne, Otto von Bismarck, and René Descartes may be mentioned. They are examples of the determination and the persistence of Aries. Finally, it should not go unnoticed that an actor as impressive as Charles Chaplin can be associated with this constellation. His extraordinary creativity demonstrates the outstanding feats of which Aries is capable.

General Characterization

You are practically inclined and a pragmatic thinker who is directed in your career by comprehensible knowledge and experience. It is thus not at all your way of doing things to make loud and promising announcements that upon closer inspection are unrealistic, overstated, and cannot be implemented in the desired form.

Your sense of responsibility and your sense for what is feasible and necessary thus lead you to sensible alternatives that you carefully and steadfastly put into action. You do not allow yourself to become thoughtlessly enthused about a specific goal without carefully weighing the advantages and disadvantages in advance. Superficial action and intentions are consequently not at all to your liking: you know your capabilities and potential and only undertake those endeavors that in your view can be accomplished satisfactorily.

In carrying out activities that you have tackled, you will always be concerned that the financial provisions for the task meet your standards. Apart from a reasonable foundation that provides adequate support, you give money no colossal significance: for you it is a means to an end plain and simple, and should guarantee you as carefree, as comfortable, and as pleasurable a life as possible. Thus, you do not use your capacity for work and capabilities in order to accumulate capital: instead you have your eye on moveable property that can suitably satisfy your wishes and requirements. On the other hand, because of your overall nature you will hardly get mixed up in financial adventure or risky speculation. Emma, you are much too down-to-earth and realistic to wager what you have already achieved and in so doing, get into unnecessary predicaments.

Suitable Occupations and Fields of Activity

The Commercial Section

You will meet the various tasks you are confronted with in this vocational area because you proceed in a businesslike, purposeful, and success-oriented fashion. Regardless of whether you work as an employee in industry or look after local customers as a regional trade representative, your communications abilities are useful to you. Your confidence-inspiring and reliable nature will make your work with others substantially easier, and as a specialist you need have no fear of being compared to others.

The Gastronomical Section

Your predilection for good food and your sociable and open nature make you very well suited for occupations in this field. You will place great value on good cooking and will always be concerned that your guests are satisfied. Because you try hard to maintain the standard of quality of your establishment, you will never complain of inadequate popularity. At the same time, in your activity as a restaurateur, your sense of economic necessities will come in handy: for this reason you will also be successful financially.

The Musical Section

Emma, your artistic talents are, as a rule, especially pronounced in the field of music; for this reason it is entirely possible that you will develop above-average abilities in the field of singing. In a corresponding occupation you will benefit from your sensitive talent; in addition, you are in a position to understand the compositions and interpret them in a sensitive and original way.

The Horticultural Section

Your sense for the beautiful, the tasteful, and the attractive provides you with access to the vocational field of gardening. You are visibly comfortable in this area because there is a direct connection between your work and your ideas, and this is recognizable in the results. You love shaping and forming; at the same time you are aware of your responsibility to nature and as a result, will be very careful to protect and maintain the variety of species. In addition, your ability to be economical is of great assistance in the context of this type of occupation: you are not in danger of losing the ground from under your feet; instead, you bring your wishes and your financial capabilities into harmony.

The Pedagogical and Educational Section

Your calm, careful, and understanding nature make you suited for the profession of teacher, because in imparting knowledge you find the necessary patience and leniency. Emma, you don't flare up if something is not understood right off the bat. Instead, you repeat and explain the material in question until it is really understood. In your pedagogical activity you do not generally refer to abstract theories and patterns of thought; rather, it is important to you to clarify the instructional content using practical examples.

Famous People

Significant researchers and scientists such as Justus von Liebig, Max Weber, Karl Friedrich Gauss, and Max Planck were born under your sign of the Zodiac. Their forward-looking developments and knowledge have lost none of their validity today.

Extraordinary writers and poets such as Ludwig Uhland, Honore de Balzac, and Johann Peter Hebel indicate the pronounced intellectual capabilities of this constellation. Emma, the most famous example in this regard is none other than William Shakespeare.

It is striking that three philosophers as famous as Johann Gottlieb Fichte, Soren Kierkegaard, and Immanuel Kant can be associated with the sign of Taurus. They confirm in an impressive manner the pioneering patterns of thought and views of which natives of this constellation are capable. In the artistic and musical realm Johannes Brahms, Claudio Monteverdi, Peter Tchaikovsky, and not least, the genius Albrecht Dürer are to be mentioned.

Tsarina Catherine II, Maria Theresa, and Maria di Medici further verify that natives of this sign of the Zodiac can be extraordinarily influential in the sphere of politics.

Atlantean Horoscope

The Atlantic Horoscope has its origin in customs long believed forgotten. It has its roots in Atlantis, an island around which many legends have been woven and whose secret could never be completely discovered. The famous Greek philosopher Plato wrote about this mythical island in the Atlantic Ocean, which sank into the sea, in his scripts "Timaios" and "Kritias" more than two thousand years ago. One of the numerous interpretations suggests that Atlantis was a land bridge between Europe and America.

One of the fundamental principles of the Atlantic Horoscope is based on the recognition that the individual character of a person has a counterpart in nature. Based on this recognition, the different dispositions and natures have symbolic flowers and their blossoms assigned to them. Next to the exact date of birth, eye color and hair color play a critical role in precisely determining the inherent talents and opportunities of the respective people. Based on these features in appearance, each individual can be related to a particular element - air, water, fire or earth.

Unlike many other astrological interpretations, the Atlantic Flower Horoscope is not comprised of an exact future prognosis. It tends more to show the characteristics and aptitudes which will shape the development of a person. Emma, if you heed this knowledge and reasoning you will be able to fashion your life in a promising and successful way. In accordance with the Atlantean customs, you are solely responsible for using the opportunities handed to you for a happy and fulfilling future.

Summary

Your hair color:

Blond

Your eye color:

Blue

Your Element:

Air

Your Temperament:

idealistic

Your Flower:

Larkspur

Your Color:

sapphire-blue to bright violet

Your Lucky Gem:

Sapphire

The Airy and Idealistic Larkspur

You will best be able to conform with your character if you are not prepared to accept simplistic and highly questionable views, but instead strive to get to the bottom of things and to recognize the true contexts. For your marked intellectual abilities aren't content with superficial examinations, which limit themselves to very simple and comfortable conclusions.

In your thoughts and actions, if you concentrate on setting noble and demanding goals, you will be able to develop your curiosity and your strong imagination appropriately. You will experience a deep inner satisfaction as soon as you come across new and unexpected knowledge and experiences. Emma, you will meet your true destiny by broadening your consciousness and your horizons. And you will be anxious in your further progress to give the views gained wider publicity.

You would like to let your fellow human beings share your views and ideas because these can only be really effective within a larger framework. In your opinion namely, changes in thought and attitude are only attainable when you succeed in convincing your environment of your own thoughts. That's why it would be wrong to act too submissively and inconsistently - such behavior would completely contradict your natural tendencies. You will only be able to achieve your demanding goals if you refrain from unwarranted concessions and compromises.

The closeness of the orchid, the lily, the poppy, the rose, the chrysanthemum, and the iris will suit the airy and idealistic larkspur.

Health Horoscope

Emma, the health horoscope sheds light on the interrelation between your date of birth and your physical disposition and your constitution. It tells you the health risks that might arise when you find yourself in a critical phase or when you are dissatisfied with your own productivity and output.

By learning more about your own physical strengths and weaknesses and by being aware of the areas where you are particularly susceptible you can improve your well-being and prevent illnesses. At the same time the health horoscope is not only concerned with superficial physical aspects, it also places emphasis on the necessity for psychological health and happiness. The diverse connections between your body and soul must never be neglected. Emotional stress or negative feelings and reactions are often the source of many illnesses or malfunctions which cause you to lose your inner equilibrium.

In this respect the health of people should be viewed in its entirety and not simply defined abstractly as illnesses. You will only really be able to feel good and to realize your full potential if you are at peace with your environment and with yourself. You will only be able to lead a fulfilling and happy life under the condition that your abilities and requirements are in tune with each other. Feelings of fear, uncertainty or discontentment which can, among other things, give rise to particular diseases will rarely occur.

Your element shows that you are a lively and energetic person with a thirst for adventure who loves change and who courageously and curiously gets involved in exciting enterprises. You always proceed impetuously and recklessly as you hate limitations of any sort. In your yearning for new boundaries and extraordinary experiences you place great value on your freedom and independence - you believe that this is the only way that you can develop your capabilities and opportunities.

Emma, your pronounced self-confidence ensures that you are not discouraged by problems or minor setbacks. You know your strengths and don't tend to doubt yourself or have inner uncertainty. Your optimistic charisma and convincing manner leave a lasting impression on those around you. People are inspired by your objectives and ideas as you will follow your claims with impressive feats.

It goes against your basic nature to let yourself be thrown by symptoms of illness. Your good physical disposition even helps you to overcome health restraints which might degenerate into chronic and prolonged illness in other people. Your well-being can, however, suffer as you expect too much of yourself and overestimate your strength. Sooner or later you will be unable to avoid heart trouble or circulatory disorders if you continue to ignore your limitations. Another danger to your health is that you often tend to be unscrupulously devoted to life's pleasures. Liver, gallbladder or kidney trouble is the consequence of an unreasonable and excessive life style that is unrestricted in any way.

The persistent Taurus

Your marked ability to drive yourself and your distinct staying power make it possible for you to persistently pursue even long term objectives. Unforeseen situations or unexpected turns have little effect on you as you have absolute confidence in the well trodden paths.

Your notable ability not to let yourself be thrown easily can actually have negative effects from a health point of view: Emma, your idle and sometimes ponderous manner can possibly lead to circulatory problems because you can't muster up the enthusiasm to do athletic activities.

Your inner peace keeps you from being prone to nervous system disorders, but at the same time this lethargy and complacency can cause significant weight problems, heart trouble or circulatory disorders. You should concern yourself therefore with changing your living habits. In order to strengthen your physical constitution and your resistance you must first take care of inner tension. Changes and fast action will speed you up, thereafter abandon old ways when possible and face new challenges.

In this respect it will definitely be an advantage to you if the prevailing atmosphere in your immediate surroundings is one of "get up and go," flexibility and activity. You often need to be prompted to be torn away from your lethargy. If your fellow men consult you about extraordinary and interesting projects there is no reason for you to question your involvement and committed interest.

Your Planet: Venus

Emma, you are a kind and friendly person whose inherent abilities can be best developed in a harmonious and balanced atmosphere. In line with your courteous nature you are always being pushed to provide acceptable solutions and reasonable compromises which carefully consider the interests of all the parties concerned. It goes against your nature to be selfish and high handed - instead you want to responsibly achieve the goals you set in cooperation with those around you.

It is hardly surprising that there's nothing you detest more than disputes and conflicts which stem from inconsiderateness, unfriendliness and a lack of sensitivity. Therefore, you always endeavor to avoid looming discrepancies and threatening tensions beforehand - you accept, though, that your own ideas and needs are often neglected. Your conciliatory and accommodating nature occasionally means that your willingness to help is abused and others improperly use your unwillingness to assert yourself for their own purposes. In these cases it is therefore appropriate for you to make your opinions and views adequately clear and not to be too quick to give up on your intentions for the sake of peace and quiet. If you lack the necessary security and safety health problems will appear. In these types of conditions you are particularly susceptible to illnesses and functional disorders in the area of the abdomen.

Basically, however, because of your inner peace and composure you will hardly ever have to deal with chronic, prolonged suffering, as your harmony-seeking nature keeps you from taking particular shortcomings in your surroundings too seriously.

Your Element: Earth

Your element permits the conclusion that you are a well-rooted and pragmatic person whose conduct is shaped by characteristics such as dependability, steadfastness and predictability. There is never a tendency for you to make spontaneous or rushed decisions - as a rule, before you become involved in a particular task, you are very careful to take into consideration the pros and cons of the plan in question.

It is in your nature to feel most at home in a balanced and secure atmosphere. Disjointed behavior, restless roaming around or thoughtless actions are entirely not to your taste. You endeavor to establish a solid foundation that will lend stability and security to your further development.

Your fellow men can depend on your contribution and on your support - one can in no way expect you to make extraordinary demands or to use unconventional methods. As your courage and willingness to take high risks are limited, you would prefer to move in safe channels and to fall back on already established practical knowledge.

Emma, your rational outlook on life allows you to enjoy relatively stable health, as you are able to judge your own energy and abilities well. On the one hand there is little danger of you being the victim of high stress or expecting too much of yourself, but an undesirable tendency towards idleness or even laziness can have unfavorable effects from a health point of view: A lack of exercise leads to inflammation of the joints or the muscles because you can't bring yourself to participate in athletic activities. For your further well-being it is therefore very important that you give this matter a lot of consideration. Going on strolls or walking in the open countryside will strengthen your constitution and provide you with the necessary recuperation.

Favorable and Unfavorable Phases

During the end phase of April and the first three weeks of May, your mental and physical efficiency will peak. During this phase you develop promising ideas and proceed vigorously and confidently to get new projects and schemes underway. In addition, favorable developments can be predicted for June and for the winter months of January and February - in these periods you can attain remarkable results.

In October and in November you must impose some restraint and not try to make any major changes. It would be much more purposeful during this period to look after what you've achieved so far and to boost your energy levels. Emma, your well-being is also restricted in the last week of July and in August - the increased susceptibility to illness means that you should keep from over-exerting yourself during this phase and make a point of recuperating and relaxing instead.

Flirt & Erotic Horoscope

The horoscope for flirtation and eroticism will give you new and unimagined insights into your love life and sexual talents and inclinations. It will show you the drives and inner forces which lie dormant within you, and the sensual feelings and emotions which essentially shape and determine your sex life.

The revelations contained in the horoscope for flirtation and eroticism go far beyond you yourself and your erotic and sexual desires. You will also discover which partner is best suited for you and the conditions which will ensure a fulfilling and satisfying love life. The comprehensive knowledge and insight which may be gained from astrology in this area will tell you which erotic and physical personality determines your relationship with the other sex. This is because you will only be able to find the right partner for a happy relationship if you are aware of these correlations and this mutual influence.

If you open yourself to this centuries-old knowledge about the individual sexuality of human beings and both develop and exhibit your own innermost abilities and driving forces, the sensuality in your life will take on a new and promising importance. Emma, you will make sexual experiences which you previously only dreamed about.

The Taurus - Woman

Even if you dislike expressing it in front of everyone, you are a woman who is very strongly interested in love and tenderness.

Your apparent reserve and sooner unimpassioned behavior are part of an ingenious and foresighted strategy. Emma, you want to observe the men in your environment at your own leisure and with the necessary care so that you can come to a sensible judgment about their strengths and weaknesses.

Once your inner voice has told you that you have found the right partner, you will bring all of your erotic personality to bear. The signals which you now send out are remarkable in their intensity and clarity. The man who accepts your invitation must be prepared for the fact that your sensual and emotional nature will place high demands on him. If he is prepared to accede to your sexual needs and wishes, both sides will most certainly benefit from this.

However, your partner should always remember one thing: You tend to become very jealous at the slightest provocation, and would therefore never agree to play merely a secondary role. Instead, you want to be the focus of his interest and affection. As long as he follows this rule, you will be a loyal and devoted life companion to him. This is because the Taurus woman is by her very nature a native and practical woman, who does not like entering into mysterious or obscure adventures.

Therefore, you want to have a strong and intensive relationship with a reliable and honest partner. Both partners will get their money's worth in such a harmonious association between give and take.

Love Life

As a demanding and emotional woman, you place great value on the atmosphere and ambiance, which are intended to give your sexual adventures an exciting and stimulating framework. And you expect a man to continue observing his good manners and taking a considerate and sensitive approach in the bedroom as well.

The exciting act of love has to be dramatically staged for you. Reckless partners seeking an all too direct path to their goal will sooner repel you. You want to be seduced cautiously and with feeling. The more intensively and sensitively the man devotes himself to your body, the greater and more eventful your own pleasure will be. You greet new techniques and unconventional wishes with reserve and skepticism, and will therefore hardly want to embark on questionable undertakings.

Any man who still wants to tempt you on forbidden paths must do so very carefully and very slowly. And he must have your trust at all times. Emma, you yourself will be able to derive some gain from the fellatio variant because the oral element plays an important and sensual role for you.

The Erogenous Zones

Tender flicks of the tongue on your neck or nape will cause you to glow. You also react to gentle caresses with the finger tips or careful bites in this area. However, you can only be effectively excited if you do not feel taken by surprise. By contrast, impetuous attacks and insistent caresses will leave you cold.

The Beginning of a Relationship

At sumptuous feasts and larger functions, one can tell a Taurus by the fact that the Taurus does not ostentatiously thrust himself or herself into the spotlight, but rather may be found just off to the side of the throng. Emma, it will not be very easy to start a relationship with a Taurus at the beginning because the Taurus is rather reserved and cautious in his or her behavior. Once a meeting has finally been arranged, it will make sense to invite the Taurus to an attractive, but not too unusual and expensive restaurant.

Access to a Taurus will be easier over a good meal and select drinks. However, one should always avoid behaving in an arrogant or even aggressive manner because the Taurus does not like high-handed and smug behavior at all. One is much more likely to receive Taurean favor by sincerely and convincingly expressing one's views and ideas.

The End of a Relationship

Since the Taurus has a very sensible relationship with money, he or she can be thrown off by unnecessary expenditures and superfluous purchases. One should defend oneself vehemently against the corresponding remonstrations, which will come as sure as death, and stick to one's own ideas.

The Taurus does not like it at all when people contradict him or her, or try to convince the Taurus about another way of thinking with all of their might. Should the above still not have brought about the desired effect, one would do well to make the Taurus jealous. Emma, this is because surprising invitations and crackling flirtations are not his or her cup of tea. If one simultaneously no longer agrees to the Taurus' sexual wishes, he or she will have a much easier time deciding to end the relationship.

Combinations

Taurus - Aries

Since notions are widely divergent in the sexual area, it will be crucial for the Taurus to signal a willingness to compromise. However, it will not be possible to avoid difficulties as time goes on.

Taurus - Taurus

Such a relationship will not be easy because the male Taurus is inclined to express his interest in other women. However, if the female Taurus is not in the limelight, she will react very indignantly.

Taurus - Gemini

It will not be possible to gloss over the difference between the realistic way of the Taurus and the more unconventional approach of the Gemini in the long run. Emma, the Gemini will soon become too bored in the sexual area.

Taurus - Cancer

The prospects for such an association are favorable because the steady Taurus can help the Cancer get over his or her indecision. A harmonious relationship will then arise from a sexual standpoint.

Taurus - Leo

The dominating and overbearing nature of the Leo will present the Taurus with some problems. Viewed in the long term, such an association has little chance, because the Leo requires subordination and conformity at nearly any cost.

Taurus - Virgo

There are clear differences from a sexual standpoint because the Taurus does not automatically accept the reserve of the Virgo. Only if a balance of interests can be found will the relationship have a future.

Taurus - Libra

The preconditions for this relationship are favorable, because both sides want to satisfy each other's sexual wishes. It does not bother the Libra much if the Taurus plays the determining role.

Taurus - Scorpio

Emma, both sides are essentially interested in exciting sexual experiences. However, your inclination to react in a heated and vehement manner to the reproaches of the other will give rise to considerable difficulties.

Taurus - Sagittarius

A lasting association is doubtful because the Taurus will try to limit the independence of the Sagittarius. Since the Sagittarius places great value on his or her freedom, conflicts are inevitable.

Taurus - Capricorn

If both sides manage to find a reasonable compromise from a sexual standpoint, the preconditions for a longer relationship are not bad. A lot will depend on the Capricorn openly expressing his or her wishes.

Taurus - Aquarius

The Aquarius will not like the fact that the Taurus has very clear notions in the sexual area. The Aquarius will have trouble satisfying the wishes of the Taurus because he or she is not fixated on the strictly physical.

Taurus - Pisces

If the Taurus manages to steer the volatile and unsteady nature of the Pisces down a calmer road, exciting experiences may be expected in the sexual area. However, the Pisces needs approval and encouragement.